Walking Trails @ CDC (Heritage Edition) Debuts Across Singapore with 5 New Trails

20 heritage trails over two years to keep residents active while discovering stories of our shared heritage and spaces

Saturday, 14 March 2026 - The five Community Development Councils (CDCs), in partnership with the National Heritage Board (NHB) and Government Technology Agency of Singapore (GovTech Singapore), today launched Walking Trails @ CDC (Heritage Edition) - a new series of neighbourhood trails that combine physical activity with the discovery of Singapore's rich heritage.

Officiated by Mr David Neo, Acting Minister for Culture, Community and Youth and Senior Minister of State, Ministry of Education, the initiative introduces five new heritage-themed trails across Singapore, that weave together walking, digital exploration and stories from the nation's shared past.

2 The Heritage Edition builds on the strong public response to the earlier Walking Trails @ CDC launched last August. Since its launch, the trails have recorded more than 80,000 trail completions with about 30,000 residents. Over the next two years, 20 heritage themed trails will be progressively rolled out across Singapore.

3 Developed with NHB, the trails highlight historic landmarks, cultural sites and everyday spaces that tell the story of Singapore's communities. By bringing heritage into neighbourhood walking routes, residents can rediscover familiar districts while gaining deeper insights into the places and traditions that shaped them.

4 The new trails span diverse neighbourhoods across Singapore. In Central Singapore, participants can explore the historic Kampong Glam precinct, including the iconic Masjid Sultan, a National Monument. In Tampines, residents can discover the town's evolution and community spaces in Singapore's first World Habitat Award winning township. Other routes include a coastal trail in Woodlands, a Bedok trail tracing former coastlines and locations where military landmarks used to be, and a Jurong scenic walk highlighting the iconic Stoneboat at the Chinese Garden. Together, these trails invite residents to uncover the layered histories, cultures and everyday stories embedded within their communities.

5 Along each route, participants complete digital checkpoints that unlock bite sized heritage stories and interactive content, transforming a simple walk into a self-guided neighbourhood heritage experience.

6 Walking Trails @ CDC (Heritage Edition) also supports the national Healthier SG movement. It encourages regular walking, one of the most accessible forms of preventive health, while strengthening understanding of Singapore's shared history and identity.

7 Designed for residents of all ages, the programme encourages family and intergenerational participation, fostering stronger community bonds through the shared exploration of local history.

8 The CDC Ollies digital mascots also return in this edition, representing the five community pillars of Caring, Learning, Inclusive, Healthy and Sustainable. A sixth Special Edition "mystery" Ollie will debut in this series. Participants who spot all six Ollies will receive a $10 reward, adding an element of surprise and discovery to the trails.

9 RedeemSG Rewards vouchers will continue to be offered to encourage participation. Eligible participants who complete designated checkpoints will receive vouchers credited through their CrowdTaskSG accounts. The programme is open to Singapore Citizens and Permanent Residents aged 15 and above with Singpass and CrowdTaskSG accounts.

Spokespersons' Quotes

Ms Low Yen Ling (Chinese: 刘燕玲女士)

Mayor of South West District, Chairman of Mayors' Committee

“Since last August, the launch of Walking Trails @ CDC has received enthusiastic response from many residents. By expanding this programme to heritage trails, we hope to encourage residents, young and old, to discover the history and stories of Singapore together. Besides the physical exercise, it's also a chance for inter-generational bonding and sharing knowledge – from learning through technology to cherishing our past. With 20 trails across the island now, I hope parents will go exploring with their children this March holiday. A family that walks together, grows together!”

Ms Denise Phua Lay Peng (Chinese: 潘丽萍女士)

Mayor of Central Singapore District

“Heritage is not just about preserving the past but it is about keeping our communities connected. Walking Trails@CDC (Heritage Edition) gives residents a chance to experience this through everyday walks. The Central Singapore trail has its own special flavour where residents can experience the richness of our multicultural heritage, from the Peranakan Museum and Masjid Sultan to Bras Basah's arts precinct, our beloved hawker culture at Golden Mile, and the sporting memories of Jalan Besar Stadium. It is a simple way to stay active while rediscovering the places, stories and shared memories that shape the communities we call home.”

Mr Alex Yam (Chinese: 任梓铭先生)

Mayor of North West District

“We are heartened by the overwhelming response to Phase 1 of Walking Trails @ CDC. It shows that something as simple as a walk, thoughtfully designed and enhanced with a touch of gamification, can bring people together and encourage healthier lifestyles.

As we launch Phase 2, we look forward to even more residents joining us to explore new trails, rediscover Singapore's rich heritage, and stay active while strengthening the bonds that make our community special.”

Mr Baey Yam Keng (Chinese: 马炎庆先生)
Mayor of North East District

“Rediscover what makes Tampines home with Walking Trails @ CDC (Heritage Edition). Designed as a DIY trail for residents to explore together, it brings friends, neighbours and families through heartland murals and diverse places of worship that tell the story of our multicultural community. Come walk, connect, and celebrate the shared experiences that unite us as one North East.”

Mr Dinesh Vasu Dash (Chinese: 迪内希先生)
Mayor of South East District

“Walking Trails @ CDC (Heritage Edition) invites residents to rediscover the rich eastern heritage in our everyday neighbourhood spaces, turning simple walks into shared journeys of discovery and connection. From the seawall and former coastline to the iconic Simpang Bedok, the trail dives into coastal heritage and looks at its evolution in today’s vibrant heartland, celebrating the heritage sites that define our multicultural identity.

Residents can embark on the trails with family and friends, creating meaningful experiences while discovering the stories that have shaped our South East District.”

Ms Chang Hwee Nee (Chinese: 章慧霓女士)
Chief Executive Officer
National Heritage Board

“NHB is delighted to partner with the CDCs on the Walking Trails @ CDC Heritage Edition. We believe heritage should be accessible to every Singaporean, not just in museums or monuments, but in the everyday spaces where our communities come together, celebrate, and create lasting memories. These trails offer Singaporeans a unique opportunity to connect with heritage on a personal level, rediscover their own neighbourhoods with fresh eyes, and uncover the rich stories and shared experiences that make each district truly special.”
